Have your say on stroke and trauma services in London

Wednesday 18 March, Friends House, 173 Euston Road, NW1
5.30pm (for 6pm start) - 9pm

Healthcare for London and the Patients' Forum for the London Ambulance Service are holding a collaborative event to discuss plans for world-class specialist stroke centres and major trauma networks across the capital.

Healthcare for London and its patient and public advisory group want to hear the views of London LINKs and the Patients' Forum for the London Ambulance Service, as part of the Healthcare for London consultation on plans to improve stroke and trauma services.

Clinicians and representatives from Healthcare for London, the London Ambulance Service and the Patients' Forum for the London Ambulance Service will speak at the event and there will be an opportunity for all present to take part in the discussion and debate. A light buffet will be provided.

Copies of the consultation document will be available at the event – the document is also available on the Healthcare for London website www.healthcareforlondon.nhs.uk.

The invitation is open to any member of a London LINK, and to members of the London Ambulance Service Patients' Forum.
